FORMAL BESTOWAL OF SPECIAL HONOR

Laetare Medal Conferred on Miss Mary Merrick by Notre Dame University.

TRIBUTE TO THE FOUNDER OF CHRIST CHILD SOCIETY

Presentation in Presence of Catholic Clergy and Laity by Dr.
John W. Cavanaugh.

Attended by a small but distinguished gathering of Catholic clergy and laity, the formal ceremony incident to the conferring of the Laetare medal on Miss Mary Merrick took place yesterday afternoon at the family residence, 1734 S. street, Rev. Dr. John W. Cavanaugh of Notre Dame University, Ind., made the presentation in the name of the university, saying:

"The University of Notre Dame to Mary Virginia Merrick, Greeting: Most noble! To honor distinguished merit and to signify inspiring example are among the most useful functions of a university. The lessons of zeal and virtue taught in pulpit and on rostrum are visualized and made concrete for youth when high examples of virtue are recognized and acclaimed.
"For this reason the University of Notre Dame, more than a quarter of a century ago, established the Laetare medal, to crown with its highest approval those lay men and women who, living in the world, have given example of lofty virtue and who have rendered distinguished services to art, science, religion, civilization or humanity. The medal is long and illustrious, and includes representatives of every virtue and every noble endeavor.
Each in turn has added lustre to the medal which honored them.
"This year the university turns to you, madame, one worthy to add lustre to this noble company. Divine love has pleased to frame your life with circumstances that seemed almost to prohibit any form of large and benefi-cent endeavor. Had you elected to spend your days merely in patient prayerfulness, neither men nor angels could have envied your decision. Hinged round by disabilities, trammelled by limitations and physical difficulties, limited circumstances which might well appear the stoutest heart and the most valiant love, you have done a work beyond what the world knows in reverent admiration.

Manifestation of Heroic Spirit.

"From your bed of pain you have proved what a heroic spirit may accomplish in spite of material hindrances. With resources of health and energy that seem almost miraculously feeble you have shown to the vigorous manhood and womanhood of America what sublime harvest divine zeal may gather for God. And all this you have done in a spirit of self-immolation and Christian womanly virtue, which has edified humanity and made you very dear to Christ.
"Therefore the University of Notre Dame bestows upon you the Laetare medal for the year of our Lord 1915, and esteems itself privileged to be permitted to lay this tribute at the feet of one whose beautiful and fruitful life has added dignity to human nature and glorified the Church of God.
Dr. Cavanaugh then handed the medal to Mrs. James P. Mackin of St. Paul's Church, who, as pastor of the recipient for twenty-five years, presented it to her, saying that as he had never received any kind of a medal himself, the next best thing was to have the pleasure of presenting one to one of his parishioners.
Rev. Dr. William J. Kerby of the Catholic University, spiritual director of the Christ Child Society and a most earnest supporter of Miss Merrick's plans for the advancement of the work of the organization, responded for her, saying that the medal was, of course, not to be prized for its intrinsic value, but for what it represented, and recalling an incident related by Napoleon, who, when bestowing the medal of the Legion of Honor, was asked why he had awarded it to a woman, he said that
his parishioners.

Mr. Hamilton's Address.

George E. Hamilton, brother-in-law of Miss Merrick, made the closing address, saying, in part:
"It is my privilege, speaking for the worthy recipient of the honor now conferred, to convey to you, reverend sir, and through you to the great University of Notre Dame, her grateful acknowledgment and deep sense of sincere and heartfelt appreciation, and to assure you that the proud distinction so graciously bestowed awakens in her and in her friends and followers everywhere feelings and emotions which, though responsive and true, may not, in their fullness, be expressed in words.
The Laetare medal, by your university, so carefully guarded in its bestowal, so coveted and so prized by laymen who have scaled the loftier heights and occupied the nobler ranges of useful achievement, comes to the founder of the Christ Child Society as a benediction and an inspiration. It places upon her work accomplished the sign and seal of highest approval; it brings to her, for her work yet to be accomplished, renewed strength and greater courage, a broader view and a holier purpose.
"You have placed upon your honor roll the names only of those 'true in work and tried in deed,' of those who have labored onward and upward to the higher level of thought and action, of precept, and example—men and women who have lived and loved and labored for God and humanity.
"And Dr. Cavanaugh, who for twenty-five years have watched and wondered at the noble work wrought by this child of destiny, who upon the foundation of her own sufferings, sorrows and sacrifices has built the Christ Child Society, is still directing an organization powerful, active and efficient, that in the eyes of the people and section of this broad land for the care, the comfort and guidance of God's little children, the children of the poor and who has brought and is bringing to the minds of men a fuller and clearer knowledge of the love and charity of the Christ Child—who have seen all this spring from the heart and brain of a child and by her ability and zeal and love and patient courage, has inspired into lines of amazing growth and usefulness, will bear willing testimony to the fact that in your selection for the year 1915 you have added to the roster of the Laetare the name of one who will give even an increased lustre and greater glory to the company of your creation.
 "For, reverend sir, we know and the world will learn that in Mary Virginia Merrick is a soul on highest mission sent."

Adaptation of Papal Custom.

The Laetare medal is an adaptation of the papal custom of conferring the Golden Rose, and is presented, usually, once each year to a member of the American Catholic laity. The medal is a large disk of pure gold, highly enameled. On the obverse side is placed always a design emblematic of the special field in which the person who is honored has accomplished distinguished service, and in this case is a figure of the Christ Child. Surrounding this emblem is the motto "Veritas magna et praevalens" and the words "Laetare Medal."

Miss Merrick was so honored because of her work as founder of the Christ Child Society, an organization which ministers to the children of the poor, without regard to race, creed, or color and which, starting originally from an impulse to provide Christmas cheer for one poor family, has grown into an organization with hundreds of members and centers in many cities.
Among the guests were Chief Justice White, U. S. circuit judge, Laetare medal in 1911, and Mrs. White; Rev.
James A. Burns, president of Holy Cross College, Cincinnati University; Rev. Father Donahoe, president of Georgetown University; Rev. Father Conroy of St. Paul's College, Holy University; Rev. J. J. Shandell of Georgetown University; Rev. Dr.
Cooper of St. Matthew's Church, Ohio; Rev. William J. Carroll of St. Paul's Church; F. L. Fenwick of Georgetown University; Mrs. George E. Hamilton, Mrs. Thomas H. Carter, Mrs. Dudley Morgan, Mrs. Mullet, the Misses Riggs,
Mrs. Frederick, Miss Ruth Elmes, Miss Lita Monaghan, Miss Ridgway, Misses Sheridan, Miss Eunice Whyte,
Mrs. Frederick, Miss Ruth Elmes, Miss Elizabeth Hamilton, the women of the executive board of the Christ Child Society, and many others. The vice-chairmen of the committee in charge of the work of the society.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS BRING DEATH AND INJURY

Cars Overtaken, Plunge Down Embankments and Collide in Various Parts of Country.

EGG HARBOR, N. J., April 15.—Benjamin Stettin, member of a firm of underwear manufacturers in Philadelphia bearing his name, was killed and Meyer Myerson of the same firm sustained body bruises here yesterday when an automobile in which they were riding overturned, plunging them under a bridge.

The accident occurred, it is said, when a Mr. Gosch, who was driving, made a sharp turn to avoid another car on a narrow road.

LAKE HOPATCONG, N. J., April 12.— Mr. and Mrs. Alfred T. Terhune of Passaic, N. J., were crushed to death yesterday when their automobile plunged down an embankment at Nolan's Point.
Six-year-old son escaped with bruises.

Husband and Wife Killed.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., April 19.—In a street car here yesterday Mrs. and Paula were killed; their four-year-old daughter Marie was dangerously injured and Frank Barritt was seriously hurt.

RYKONE, Pa., April 19.—Dr. C. E.
Shaffer of Windber, Pa., was killed and five other persons were injured when an automobile accident near here yesterday in endeavoring to pass another machine while going at a rapid pace. Dr. Shaffer turned too far to the side of the road and ran into a bank.
The car overturned several times, buring its occupants to the ground.

Opera Singer Injured.

NEW YORK, April 19.—Mme. Margarette Matzenauer, contralto, one of the principal singers of German opera roles with the Metropolitan Opera Company of this city, was badly cut and bruised yesterday when she was thrown from an automobile in collision with another machine in Long Island City.

Her husband, Edoardo Ferrari-Fontana, tenor of the Boston Opera Company, was cut and bruised, and also suffered from shock.

FARMINGTON, Mich., April 19.—Cecil Cogswell, a farmer, and his daughter, Harriet, four years old, were killed yesterday when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by an infernal electric car. Cogswell, a three-year-old son, Glen, was seriously injured.

FISH RECEIPTS LIGHT.

Comparatively Small Catches Made of Shad and Herring.

Records in the office of the market-master in charge of the fish and oyster markets show that in the week ending Saturday the total receipts of shad and herring from all sources amounted to 26,250 of the former and 310,000 of the latter. This is an increase of 11,820 shad over last week, but falls short over 3,300 as compared with the week of April 11. Herring have increased 55,000 over the week of April 11 and 65,000 over the week ended April 17. Compared with either 1913 or 1914 receipts are considerably below the average.

With Chapman's shore in operation and Sney point and other shores going into operation this week, the catch of shad and herring by the Potomac fleets is expected to show a total increase.
Both shad and herring are selling at high prices for this late in the season.

PRESIDENTIAL HONORS NOT MR. BORAH'S OBJECT

Senator From Idaho Renounces Aspirations. But Will Accept Candidacy if Offered.

Senator Borah's formal renunciation of presidential aspirations, which was forecast some time ago, was made in a statement issued by the senator last night, before his departure for Idaho. After declaring that he was not and would not become a candidate for the republican presidential nomination, his statement continued:
"If by any chance the party should nominate me, I, of course, should accept. To pretend or to imitate otherwise would be absurd. But I shall not seek the nomination nor strive in any way, directly or indirectly, to obtain it."
"Nor have I the slightest expectation of its coming my way. In point of fact, I should not consider the matter worth mentioning at all but for the inquiries I have received from many sources and for the circumstance that I am going to make a few speeches that I promised to make and should have made long ago if we had not been kept continuously in Washington."

Will Speak His Convictions.

"The sole purpose of this statement is to make it quite clear to those who may come to hear me that I shall speak my convictions as a liberal republican, as a free man wholly unhampered by political aspirations."

"The United States Senate affords a large enough forum for anybody, and it is there that I feel I can do whatever my best may be in the public service. In any case I am content to stay there as long as my state is content to have me. There is no impropriety, of course, in becoming a candidate. In fact, it will soon be, if it is not already, necessary to avow one's conviction on the spreading primary system."

"But a candidate is a slave, and I prefer to keep my freedom to speak as plainly as I see fit, especially at this time when plain speaking seems likely soon to become necessary if the republican party is to be restored to power."

Christ Child Society to Meet.

The president and board of managers of the Christ Child Society have sent out invitations for the annual meeting to be held at Rauscher's Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. Dr. W. J. Kerby of the Catholic University will make the principal address. An exhibition of the work of the society will be placed on view at 3 o'clock the same afternoon.

The Nation and Its Capital

AN OPEN LETTER

Edwin C. Brandenburg, Esq., President, Washington Board of Trade.

My Dear Sir: Your organization has issued a circular letter carrying a proposal "to raise funds among its members to defray our portion of the expense of properly presenting the case of the Citizens of the District of Columbia before the Joint Committee of Congress, appointed to investigate fiscal relations between the Federal Government and the District."

Current reports indicate that it is the intention of the Citizens' Committee to defend the so-called "Half-and-Half" plan. There are, however, many of our citizens who are firmly convinced that the perpetuation of that plan constitutes a grave menace to the welfare of the Nation's Capital. Careful study and thorough investigation of the relations of our own Government to its Capital City, and of the relations of Italy, France, Hungary, Austria, Germany and England to their respective Capitals, point clearly to a conclusion that the time has come for the United States Government to take over in fact as well as in theory its own Capital, to conduct its affairs and to improve its conditions in such manner as it may deem best. Had that been done when it was urged, when the so-called "Half-and-Half" plan was accepted as a compromise, there can be little doubt that the Park Commission plans would now be a reality instead of a dream; that our parks would long since have been connected; that the Anacostia flats would now be a field of beauty; that the charms of the city generally would have been greatly enhanced. Full evidence of this appears in Panama, in Porto Rico, Manila, the Yellowstone and other National Parks, and in all other municipal and Reservation enterprises in which the Government has operated with a free hand.

Such control by the Government would remove the city from politics as the Army and the Navy are removed. It would do away with the so-called District Day in Congress, now a source of constant irritation. There should be no more of a District Day than an Army Day or a Navy Day or an Agricultural Day.
This method would end the present friction between the Citizens of the District of Columbia and the United States, a condition of which all are weary. It would permit the Government to spend, without criticism, whatever money it might see fit to spend, just as appropriations are now made for the Reclamation Service, for Rivers and Harbors and other Government enterprises. It may be assumed with safety that a sum would be expended far in excess of the appropriations now made.

It is urged that the "Half-and-Half" plan has worked well for thirty-six years. Yet it appears only as a colossal failure when comparison is made with the growth and the beauty of the Capitals of Argentina, of Brazil, of Italy, Hungary and of other nations. Should not the citizens of the District of Columbia now say to the citizens of the United States: "This is YOUR city; take it as your own; run it as you own it, and so place full responsibility where it rightly belongs? Should they not say to the people of the nation: 'We are living in your city. We are doing business in your city. We desire to stay here.
We deem it a great privilege to live here. We desire that those of you who are able to do so should come here and live with us. We would have you understand distinctly that we do not ask something in exchange for nothing. We have been and are entirely willing to pay just taxes. We do not care what system of taxation is employed; whether that of Baltimore, Kansas City, Los Angeles, New Orleans or Boston is immaterial to us. We are content to leave to those in authority the determination of system and rates, confident that the people of the United States will see to it that their Capital city is made worthy of its great place among the Capitals of Nations?"

Under such a plan, let us pay our just taxes directly to the Government. Let the Government spend our money, and as much more as it sees fit to spend. We can trust the Government to provide for our schools, our fire and police departments, our health bureau and all other branches of the municipal organism. Surely, under such a plan, we should be regarded by all our sister cities as fortunate. Why not, then, bury the old "Half-and-Half" plan, and untidily urge the government to come into its own, for the greater glory of the Nation and the greater future of its Capital city?

Yours sincerely,
WILLIAM E. SHANNON.

Abe Martin Says:

It's purty hard t' look th' world straight in th' face an' keep smilin'.

There's gittin' t' be almost as many folks who pretend t' be poor as ther' are who pretend t' be rich.

Margaret, the last of the triplets born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Philipps of Baltimore, died yesterday. The lives of the other two—Marie and Katrina—passed off Friday and Saturday.
